

Together, we must care for Creation: a call from faith leaders for corporate accountability

Photo: Guilherme Cavalli

Our Planet and Human Family are suffering at the hand of corporations moved by the search for profit. In 2022, the European Commission tabled a proposal to keep companies accountable for their harm to people and the planet.

The Commission proposal is flawed, and contains glaring loopholes. We must come together across faiths and confessions to raise our voice in defense of all Creation.

Read the statement - Sign the Statement

- What is the Corporate Sustainability Due Diligence Directive? Read our short Factsheet or CIDSE's comprehensive analysis.
- What is a value chain? And what do we mean by a Corporations' legal liability for harm? Watch our short video and read our Glossary.
- In 2022, Peru experienced the largest oil spill in its history. Yet, the Spanish and Italian companies responsible for it would not be held accountable if the CSDDD is not amended. We asked community leaders in Peru what they think of that in this video.
- How do we improve the CSDDD? More than 220 civil society organisations explain it in this Statement.
- More than 100 civil society organisations have already come together to raise their voice. Join the Justice is Everybody's Business campaign.